I.

In compliance with Section 58 Paragraph 2 of Act No. 111/1998 Coll., on Higher Education Institutions and on Amendments of and Supplements to Other Acts (Higher Education Act), as amended, the Ministry of Education, Youth and Sports of the Czech Republic announced on January 27, 2022 the base for setting the fees related to study for the academic year 2022/2023 at the amount of CZK 4,418 (in words four thousand four hundred and eighteen Czech crowns).

According to this base and in compliance with Appendix 2, Fees Related to Study at UCT Prague, to the internal regulation “Statute of the University of Chemistry and Technology, Prague”, the amounts of fees related to study are for the academic year 2022/2023 as follows:

In the academic year 2022/2023, a student studying in a bachelor or follow-up master study programme falling into the education field Chemistry, Economics, or Food Science for more than the standard period of study increased by one year shall pay for the term of the first twelve months a fee equal to four times the base, i.e. the amount of CZK 17,672 rounded up to CZK 17,700 (in words seventeen thousand seven hundred Czech crowns) for each commenced six months of study; in the following years the student shall pay eight times the base, i.e. the amount of CZK 35,344 rounded up to CZK 35,400 (in words thirty-five thousand four hundred Czech crowns) for each commenced six months of study.

A student studying in a study programme implemented in a foreign language and falling in the education field Chemistry, Economics, or Food Science shall pay a fee under Section 58 Paragraph 4 of the Higher Education Act. In compliance with Appendix 2, Fees Related to Study at UCT Prague, to the internal regulation “Statute of the University of Chemistry and Technology, Prague”, the amount of the fee for study in a study programme in a foreign language for the academic year 2022/2023 shall be sixteen times the base, i.e. CZK 70,688 rounded up to CZK 70,700 (in words seventy thousand seven hundred Czech crowns).

Doctoral study programmes implemented in a foreign language are free of charge in the academic year 2022/2023.

Waiver, reduction, deferment or division in several payments of fees related to study.

Within the process of deciding on revision of the decision regarding charging a fee related to study, the Rector may waive, reduce, defer or divide the payment of the above stated fees, taking into account award of study results or social scholarship, extremely difficult study, social, health or family situation of the student and extraordinary professional or social representation of UCT Prague.

The Rector decides on the waiver, reduction or deferment of the fee based on the student's written appeal raised within 30 days of notification of the Dean's decision to charge the fee related to study; the appeal shall contain an attachment containing documents providing reasons for the appeal.

Further information, if necessary, shall be provided by the Department of Education.
